

CALAMBRA

Assaulted and Captured By an Expedition of American Soldiers.

REBELS FIGHT BRISKLY

Are Driven Out of the Town, Which Americans Decide to Garrison Forthwith.

INSURGENTS ATTACK OUTPOSTS

MANILA, P. I., July 27.—General Hall and force captured Calambra, on the south shore of Laguna de Bay, today after sharp fighting. The American loss was four killed and eleven wounded.

The town captured was the headquarters for General Malvar and the center of the insurgent telegraph system in Southern Luzon. Its fall is, therefore, a fortunate one.

The capture was brought about in this way:

Four hundred Washington volunteers under Major Wotanberger, and a battery of the First Artillery left Manila yesterday morning in canoes and launches, joining four hundred and fifty regulars from the Twenty-first infantry, under Captain Elenor, and one hundred and fifty men of the Fourth cavalry, under Captain McGrath, from Norong. The expedition was conveyed by the army gunboats Napihan and Oreste to a point off South Taim Island. It was at 10 o'clock in the afternoon when the troops arrived off Calambra, and at once the attack was made. The rebels fled the way, the men of the Twenty-first and Fourth cavalry wading in water neck deep to the north end of the island. The insurgents lay quiet in their work until all the men had landed. They then opened a brisk fire on the advance Americans, but were quickly driven from their first position. The Twenty-first in the meantime had made its way through swamps to flank the enemy on the right. The Ft. White Washington volunteers, under cover of the Napihan's six pounders and the launches, landed on the south of town, but were not rapid enough to prevent a portion of the enemy from escaping.

The fighting continued for four hours.

After their retreat it was found that the rebels had removed 300 men and wounded. About 300 Americans were left in the town.

The expedition was a complete surprise to the enemy and the first in the line when the flotilla appeared in the offing.

The place will be permanently garrisoned.

Lieutenant Laisan, commanding the Napihan, discovered and seized the only remaining insurgent gunboat on the lake. The vessel was deserted and her guns gone, but otherwise she is in good shape.

General Lawton and Prof. Worcester launch. Several times they were under heavy fire, but they escaped uninjured.

This morning General Lawton visited Las Benas, a natural hot spring, two miles west of Calambra, which was deserted by the insurgents. The place had been formerly utilized by the Spaniards as a hospital for convalescents. General Lawton recommends a similar use of the place.

Prof. Worcester remained in Calambra today doing missionary work among the inhabitants. He also explained to them the intentions of the American government toward the Philip-pines.

ELEVENTH DAY.

Cleveland Car Strike Near No Solution—Council to Investigate.

CLEVELAND, O., July 27.—This is the eleventh day of the second street railway strike. There is no indication of a settlement, for both sides declare there is nothing to arbitrate. A special meeting of the city council will be held tonight to investigate the responsibility for the strike. Cars ran all last night on all the lines except two, and there was little trouble. Frank Wright, a young son of a striker, was shot in the leg last night by a non-union motorman, but he was not seriously hurt.

MEN TO DIE.

PAUPERS SHIPPED.

Yesterday Was Evansville Day With the Mayor.

A German family from Texas and composed of about half a dozen people, applied to the mayor yesterday afternoon for transportation to Evansville, where they have relatives. They have been working their way as best they could, and could not even talk English intelligently enough to let the mayor know where they desired to go.

Tax Collector Kraus was called in and acted as interpreter, and the impetuous family was sent to Evansville on the packet.

A Miss Tiltman was yesterday sent from the Home of the Friendless to Evansville by Mayor Lang. She had been cared for at the above institution for some time, and has relatives in Evansville to whom she desired to go.

PRESIDENT HEUREAUX

Has Been Assassinated After Years of Unpopular Rule.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—The state department this morning received a dispatch from Santo Domingo confirming the report that President Heureauux had been assassinated. The president had long been unpopular with his subjects and several times there have been threatened insurrections.

Heureauux was assassinated at Santo Domingo, at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The name of the murderer is known. He succeeded in escaping. He was given an energetic pursuit but at once began to flee. It is probable that he will soon be captured.

Vice President Gen. Wenceslao F. R. immediately upon the announcement of the president's death, assumed the direction of affairs.

LUETGERT DEAD

Sudden Death Today in Joliet State Prison.

Recalls a Noted Chicago Murder Case, Trial, Etc.—Heart Disease or Suicide.

JOLIET, Ill., July 27.—Adolph Luetgert, the famous Chicago wife murderer, died suddenly in his cell at the penitentiary here this morning. It is reported heart disease was the cause of his death. He was found by the guards in a dying condition and expired before medical aid could be summoned. Another report, however, says the prisoner committed suicide.

Luetgert's trial was one of the most sensational ever heard in Chicago or the United States. He was convicted of killing his wife in his sausage factory and boiling her body in a powerful solution of potash to remove all traces of the crime. A few bones, some teeth, a corset steel and strands of hair—the only portions of the body of the supposed murdered woman—were found and 'twas upon these mute evidences of the alleged crime that Luetgert's conviction was principally secured.

The first trial resulted in a disagreement, but he was sentenced to life imprisonment on the second trial. This sentence was imposed with the one faint shadow of hope that the missing wife might some day return.

PETER MITCHELL DEAD.

Was 40 Years Old and Came to This Country From Scotland.

Peter Mitchell, aged 40, and who drove a milk wagon, died suddenly this morning from heart failure about 9 o'clock. The summons was without immediate warning, but he had been ill for a year past, but was at times apparently all right.

The deceased was born in Scotland, and came to this country about 20 years ago. He was unmarried, and lived at 1301 Broadway. He leaves two sisters, one residing here and one in New York, and a brother at Paducah Junction. His father, Alexander, died about a year and a half ago.

Mr. Mitchell was able to go out on his wagon this morning, and returned about 9 o'clock. He said to a member of his family that he did not feel well and believed he would lie down.

He did so and when next observed in less than five minutes, was quite dead. The funeral will take place some time tomorrow.

FILTER PATENTED.

Mr. Sam Foreman Gets Up a Good Invention.

Mr. Sam Foreman has invented a filter, and has applied for a patent on one of the most perfect filters, and runs off an hour. The second is clean, and it is a sa. "clear, pure water in a few moments by turning a valve, there is not an objection to the new filter in the opinion of those who have seen it work.

Mr. Foreman and City Attorney Lightfoot returned yesterday from St. Louis, where they made a test of the filter, and found it to compare favorably with any on the market, and that it filters water in much larger quantities, and with just as good results, as any of the other filters. An order has been placed with a big St. Louis firm for 500 of them, and they will be disposed of by the firm, which has assumed the agency. Several will be received here in a few days. No stock company will be formed for the sale of them.

MUNICIPAL POLITICS.

Some of the Rumors About the Present Council.

Some little interest is being awakened in the forthcoming Democratic primary, on September 5, but as yet no one has announced his candidacy for a place on the Democratic ticket. It is reported that no less than three, and perhaps as many as eight, of the present city council will run for places on the next municipal ticket. One thing is evident, from reports heard on the streets, and that is that the next council must be composed of men who are willing to build up the town and judiciously invest the city's money.

THE OUTLOOK.

Gov. Brown's Announcement for Governor a Bomb Shell.

Louisville Post, 26th: "Telegrams have been pouring into Gov. John Young Brown from all over the state today congratulating him on his brave stand, and promising him the most ardent support.

Evening Post specials have been received, showing that the popular ex-governor will secure a warm welcome and hearty support all over the state.

It is conceded that Gov. Brown is today the strongest living Democrat, and it is thought he will sweep the state.

Goebelism is doomed, and even his warmest supporters in many places acknowledge defeat already.

Brown's candidacy means the redemption of the state from organized gangs of politicians, who, having captured the machinery, are attempting to capture the offices and disfranchise the honest voters of the state.

Gov. Brown said this morning that the outlook was so encouraging as to be absolutely incredible.

"I knew that the revolt was deep-seated," said the governor, "but I had no idea that there would be any such spontaneous burst of feeling. The telegrams I have received are from the foremost men in the party all over the state."

Gov. Brown this afternoon was invited to address the anti-Goebel meeting to be held at Lexington next Saturday."

LIVERPOOL, July 27.—Mrs. Letitia Perot, the alleged abductress of her own child, was arrested here this morning upon the arrival of the steamer from Baltimore. She was accompanied here by Captain Blood, a brother of Lady Colin Campbell, and the child.

Mrs. Perot and Blood registered as man and wife and so made the passage. The child was taken from its great parents in Baltimore, in whose custody it was placed when Mrs. Perot secured a divorce. Mrs. Perot was a famous Baltimore beauty when she married Perot, who was a wealthy businessman.

STREET APPROPRIATION.

Mayor Lang Tells Where It Goes—Not Enough for the Demand.

"I have heard people criticizing the street expenditures," remarked Mayor Lang this morning. "One man said that there was not $3,500 worth of material put on the streets a year.

"This may be true, but he forgets that all the street and sidewalks and alley intersections are paid out of the street account, as well as all the labor on the streets with the exception of the cleaning work, the cleaning of the gutters, and a great many other things. This indicates that the $12,000 appropriated for the streets does not go far after all."

HAYNES GOT BAD.

Created a Disturbance at Key.

Created a disturbance at Key. This morning, holds Saloon. Will Haynes, colored, created a disturbance at the saloon of Reynolds and Lowe this morning and used very obscene language towards Reynolds. ## BROKE JAIL

Postoffice Robbers Wanted Here Get Out at Marion.

Tunnelled Out and Made Their Escape—Reward Offered for Their Arrest.

Harry Osburn, Harry Irwin and Ed Tabor left the county jail Tuesday morning about daylight without the authority or consent of Jailer Hard, says the Crittenden Press. The jailer says he locked the prisoners each in a cell Monday night and knows the cell doors were locked good and tight as usual. The iron door that leads from the main cage to the outer corridor was also locked, at the center, near the bottom and eighteen inches from the top. Jailer Hard remained until 12 o'clock Monday night, having a suspicion that an effort would be made to break the jail. Tuesday morning the cell doors were open, the main door was open, and there was a big hole in the brick wall beneath one of the east windows, and the three prisoners were gone.

The upper corner of the main iron door had been pried back with some strong lever and some hooks the prisoners had used as a prop to keep the pried section back, while the men crawled out of the small opening. Once in the outer corridor it was an easy matter to go through the brick wall.

A posse spent all day Tuesday in the woods southwest of town searching but the escaped men were not found. Osburn and Irwin are charged with breaking into the store at Caveville. Tabor was fined for gambling and sent to prison. A reward of $50 has been offered for Osburn and Irwin. Jailer Hard thinks they were assisted by persons from the outside. He thinks they were supplied with an iron bar for prizing and took it away with them.

The men are the same ones who are wanted by the government authorities here for breaking into the postoffice at Caveville, which is in the store robbed. Deputy Marshall La Rue went up to Marion after them a few weeks ago, but the civil authorities would not turn them over to him.

ON A BENCH WARRANT.

Ira English, of Palma, Marshall county, came here yesterday to join the army, but was arrested last night by Deputy Sheriff Dodd, of Benton, on a bench warrant charging him with being indicted for petty larceny. THURSDAY, JULY 27, 1899.

Without entering into a discussion of the merits of the respective factions in the Democratic party, it may be said that those Democrats who in response to the announcement of the candidacy of ex-governor John Young Brown for the gubernatorial nomination of the so-called "bolters," have attacked the integrity of that tried and true warrior by alleging that he was induced by unfair means to run, or for any dishonorable purpose has entered the race, are assailing him at his most invulnerable point.

Ex-governor Brown is a man who has always honored his party and has been in turn honored by it, but he is a man with the courage of his convictions, which are always the result of close study and the highest aims. He fears nothing. The cause is greater than any man with him, and for that cause, whatever it may be, he will make any sacrifice. His Democracy like his integrity has never been questioned, and he has for years valiantly fought the battles of the party from one end of the state to the other.

Those who have fought side by side with him well know that he will never desert a cause that is right, and as long as the real party banner is unfurled he will be found fighting to uphold its supremacy, but when the black flag of anarchy, murder and run is hoisted in its stead, he will surely turn his weapons against it, and if needs be, go down in political defeat and death. That's the kind of man he is, and of this those who know him best are most fully convinced.

Whatever his purpose may be for entering this contest now, it may be safely asserted that it is an honorable one, and one that he believes is right. He had no intention to expect from the gang that now dominates Kentucky Democracy, and will be no worse off so far as they are concerned on account of the step he has taken than if he had stood idly by and seen them prostitute the cause of Democracy for political greed and the gratification of dishonest ambition. If John Young Brown believes as many do, that the sinuous trail of Goebellism in Kentucky is a menace, or that a safe, honest and upright administration of public affairs in Kentucky would be precluded or jeopardized by the elevation to power of Goebel and his gang, he is just the man to do all in his power to prevent it, no matter whom it pleases or displeases, nor even if it does, as has been claimed, mean political suicide. If any of the personal or political friends of the former governor imagine for a moment that he will knowingly conspire with them to commit a wrong and stifle the voice of the people, they will soon, if they have not already done so, discover their mistake. Before he would lend his aid or encouragement to such disreputable methods, he would sacrifice every political hope and ambition he ever had, no matter if such false friends desert him by the hundreds. He may be ostracized by the gang now attempting to control the state, but he will be found fighting on the side of right, and will give them a battle royal in the meantime. In the end he will find the majority of his party with him, for Goebellism can never prevail in this grand old commonwealth.

The Populists meet in state convention in Frankfort tomorrow. There is just a probability that the body, in view of the condition of the Democratic party, may attempt an indirect coalition by recommending if not endorsing the candidacy of the Hon. John Young Brown for governor and leaving his selection to the proposed Lexington gathering of August 2.

The Louisville Times would be facetious over the prospective candidacy of Governor Brown for the executive ship, but the seriousness of the matter went down. The spirit of the Times is that of the whistling boy passing a graveyard—it makes some noise but is greatly out of tune.

The Lexington Herald takes the position that, as the recent Democratic state convention adopted the credentials committee's report by only 141 votes in a convention of 1,092 votes, that body ceased to be a Democratic convention, and its action was invalid. In view of this fact the Herald says that Chairman Johnston is still chairman of the Democratic state central committee, instead of A. W. Young, who was chosen by the convention, and that all proceedings are invalid. This point will be discussed at the state conference to be held August 2 in Lexington.

Goebellism is doomed.

If the other nominees of the Democratic ticket want a shadow of a chance for election they had better ask Goebel to resign forthwith. It is already settled that he is doomed to defeat.

In the Louisville Post—one of the brightest edited papers in the state and one of the most earnest workers for the cause of pure politics, morality and law and order—the independent Democrats have a champion worthy of their efforts to turn down Goebellism and all the term implies. The paper is a great credit to its management.

Manager McLean, who wants to be governor of Ohio on the Democratic ticket, endorses Goebel and Goebellism in his paper, the Cincinnati Enquirer. Ohio should be praying to be spared even the candidacy of a man who would endorse Goebellism even if that man was not Manager McLean.

The Sun's telegraphic report is a very good one. Not only the neighborhood news but the intelligence of the world at large is printed. If you would keep posted you must read The Sun.

Some of the Goebellite papers say that only the railroad employees are against the Louisville convention nominee. If this is the size of the conditions then Mr. Goebel's name is a nightmare. There are enough railroads in the state to elect a ticket of their own should they see fit to do so, and the effort of the Goebellites to raise opposition to them in the way they are endeavoring to do will only solidify them and make certain the defeat of the demagogue who heads the Louisville ticket.

The Goebellites have started the "I bet you" bluff game. The question is, Whence comes all this betting stuff?

Abuse is to be the stock in trade of the Goebellites, it is clear. Every opponent of Goebel who appears is instantly vilified by some one of the Goebellites. Now note what will be said by the very men whom Governor Brown brought into prominence of his candidacy. They will swallow every word they have said of him in the past and endeavor to blacken his character just because he is disposed to still be honest in his politics. This is politics with some people, it being just their size, but thanks to true and personal respectability, the state has many citizens who are not politicians and wouldn't be if they could at such sacrifice as some men make. Abuse is poor campaign material and it is sometimes very costly too.

The Goebellites have adopted (?) a new way to elect a governor. They pretend to poll a county and then give out a report as to who won vote for Goebel. The announcements are something like this: The leading Democrats of ——— had a trusted man to canvass each precinct of the county and learn how many members of the party would not support Goebel. Only one Democrat was found who avowed he would not support the king of Kentucky. The words "trustee" man, etc., would seem to be proper ones—trusted to report to suit the bosses.

The Baltimore Sun, the leading Democratic paper of Maryland, says the instant the silver plank of the Chicago convention is reaffirmed, the election of a Republican president in 1900 becomes an absolute certainty. No evidence appears anywhere that the sound money men of 1896 have changed their opinion of the Chicago platform.

The idea which has prevailed in Cuba for years is now the greatest drawback to the island. The so-called Cuban officers are only a gang of loafers who want to continue to live off of the workers on the island, either as officeholders or robbers, or both. If the island only could be properly ruled for five years its independence might be a possibility, but it needs new blood and new ideas and there it must get to even progress to the extent desired.

The Louisville Times says the way to cure disease, moral, physical or economic is purposely, no doubt, manifest in the case of the cause. Here is a wise suggestion, and one Kentucky Democrats should take to heart. Goebellism is a disease and needs to be removed ere it kills their party "deadlier a doo' nail."

CIVIC OPPORTUNITY.
St. Louis Globe-Democrat: "Next November the voters of Kentucky can perform an important service to the people of the United States. The question to be decided is of vital interest to every citizen. It affects all parties alike, for the integrity of the right of suffrage is at stake. If Kentucky defeats Goebel his election bill will stand condemned. But if he is chosen governor a brood of imitators will spring up in other states to apply his methods. The Goebel election law has not yet been tested before the people of Kentucky. Their verdict will be looked for with national interest. Anything that attacks the sovereignty of the voter is an offense against all respectable parties and against every individual possessing the franchise. Parties that win one year may lose the next, and then the machinery devised to beat the ballot box passes out of their hands. Not many years ago Kentucky was considered a Democratic Gibraltar. Yet it elected a Republican governor in 1894, and gave all its electoral votes except one in 1896 to the Republican candidate for president. No one disputes the fairness of the election. The voters of the state decreed it, and the honesty of the count of ballots stands unquestioned. Last year the Democrats carried Kentucky again, and the decision was not impeached. As long as the people believe that their judgment is registered they accept the result in good faith and good temper.

"But a different and dangerous feeling prevails when the ballot box is tampered with. The Goebel law organizes a power superior to the ballot box. A state board of elections is created, and the legislature chooses its members. The board serves four years, and its members are all Democrats. It controls the electoral machinery and the returns. In each county it appoints three commissioners of elections and all of one party. The state board can remove preposterously any member of a county board. Precinct officers are appointed from the two leading parties by the county boards. The county board counts the vote, and has authority to revise it. A second revision may be made by the state board, as it proceeds with the tabulation and watches the footings. Every election officer through out the state owes his appointment to the state board or its immediate representatives. Precinct returns are mere memoranda for county board alterations. No contests are provided for. The county and state certificates are to be conclusive and appeals to the courts are cut off. With automatic certainty the law is expected to keep a certain set of Democrats in control of the state forever.

"Goebel showed at the recent Democratic state convention why he invented this law and engaged in a long fight to push it through the legislature. He made himself the first Democratic nominee for governor after its passage, and secured the nomination after deliberately cheating and counting out the majority. The Goebel law is but one manifestation of his character. The Louisville convention was a chip off the same block. Democrats opposed to Goebel were gagged and brutally swindled in that convention. They, as well as Republicans, will suffer from a false vote when the county and state election boards get to work on the returns with their pencils, scissors and paste. Daily dispatches reveal an extensive revolt against Goebel throughout the state. In one county 460 Democrats have signed a call for a new state convention. Arrangements have been made for one at Lexington next month. Populists have called a state convention to meet at Frankfort August 19. Goebel is not to have as easy a time with his sure-thing swindle as he imagined. There will be rejoicing throughout the country if Kentucky overthrows him with defeat and with a righteous contempt."

The United States is getting right close up to a row with Nicaragua. A demand has been made on the republic that she pay back to some American a demand for duty taxes. Should the money not be refunded trouble will follow.

DIDN'T HE DO IT IN '96?
Owensboro Messenger: "Even the Paducah Sun, the leading Republican newspaper in Western Kentucky, is discredited very much indeed over the alleged fact that Bryan is going to lose Kentucky in 1900 by coming to the state and speaking in the interest of the Democratic ticket in 1899.

Hon. John Gilbert Shanklin, Democratic national committeeman from Indiana, says it is absolutely certain that the next Democratic convention will go to Kansas City. He has talked to nearly all the committeemen, and found that fully two thirds of them favored Kansas City.

NOT TOO STRONG.
St. Louis Globe-Democrat: "Mr. Bryan has written a letter endorsing Goebel for governor of Kentucky. That Bryan should give his approval to a partisan election law and to a man nominated by a convention in which the majority was deliberately cheated by the chairman marks another long step in a downward path. One of the electoral votes of Kentucky went to Bryan in 1896. He will get none next year. After identifying himself with the worst faction in the state, he will sink to its level. But in whatever direction he is in he is confronted with Democratic factions. His tendency to join in with the most unscrupulous is a well-defined case of degeneracy."

The attention of persons who are told by the yellow journals that the American forces have suffered great losses in the Philippines is called to the record of the Second Oregon regiment, which has just returned from every sea. We are dealing with the world and with the larger issues that ever crowned and burdened human brows. American statesmanship must be as broad as American destiny and as brave as American duty. And American statesmanship will be all this if it draws its inspiration from the masterful American people and their imperial history. For the American people have never taken fear for a counselor. They have never obeyed the impulses of their blood. They have harkened to the voice of our God. They have surmounted insuperable obstacles on the wings of a mighty faith; they have solved insoluble problems by the sovereign rule of liberty; they have made the bosom of the ocean and the heart of the wilderness their home; they have subdued nature and told history a new tale. Let American statesmanship listen to the hearty cheers of the American people in the present hour and there will be no confusion, no hesitation, no craven doubt. The faith of the Mayflower, as it sailed into the storm-framed horizon, is with us yet. The courage of Lexington and Bunker Hill is with us yet. The spirit of Hamilton and Jefferson and Jackson and Seward and Grant is with us yet. The unconquerable heart of the pioneer still beats within America's hearts, and the American flag advances still in its ceaseless and imperial progress, with law and order and Christian civilization trooping beneath its sacred folds. The American people are the propagandists and not the misers of liberty. He who no longer believes in the vitality of the American people, in the immortality and saving grace of free institutions, in the imperial greatness of American destiny, belongs not in the councils of the American nation, but in the somber cabinets of the decaying races of the world. The American people are not perishing; they are just beginning their real career. The full sunrise of the day which peculiarly belongs to the American people in the progress of human events has flooded all the world at last, and we will live each golden moment of our mighty day in a way as great as the day itself. This is the note to which every other note and all other notes in the national diapason must be attuned. It is a manly courageous voice that speaks."

The anti-Goebellites of Caldwell county will hold a convention in France town Saturday to have a say on the new convention movement. The wave is rolling in all directions over the state.

Watch the traitors who owe Brown so much. They will knife him the deepest.

INGERSOLL'S GREAT DEFECT.
Philadelphia Press: "The great defect in Ingersoll and men of his ilk, the reason why their attacks upon Christianity can have no permanent effect, is that they are in no sense philosophical thinkers. Dr. S. A. T. Simon once expressed his discouragement to Tolstoy. 'How can I make my theories succeed?' he asked. 'Well,' replied that keen student of men, 'you might let them crucify you and then rise from the dead.' Men must have some ocular demonstration that their old faith is wrong, or else must be given some reasonable new faith to supplant it. Otherwise they will cling to the altars of their fathers. Ingersoll had none to offer. He could do no more than attempt to break down one already firmly established. Mankind at large demanded that he first build a better."
